[MAY, MDCCLXX.] THE [NUMB. 231.]

SOUTH-CAROLINA AND COUNTRY GAZETTE; JOURNAL.

Containing the freſheſt Advices, both Foreign and Domeſtic.

TUESDAY, MAY 8, 1770.

LONDON, FEBRUARY 22.

YESTERDAY Lord North moved for an addreſs to his Majeſty, that he would be pleaſed to give orders for all the papers that have been received relative to the ſeveral aſſociations formed on the Continent, to be laid before the Houſe.

Tueſday there was a numerous meeting of the Supporters of the Bill of Rights, at the London tavern, the Rev. Dr. Wilſon in the chair. After dinner the committee, appointed at the laſt meeting to take into conſideration the ſtate of Mr. Wilkes's affairs, made their report, which was more favourable than expected.

The province of South-Carolina having ſet the patriotic example, the ſociety of the Bill of Rights are in daily expectation of ſome conſiderable ſubſcriptions from America, in conſequence of their circular letters which were ſent ſome time ago.

The concluſion of a late ſpeech in a certain ſociety, againſt entering into a war:----A load of taxes, ſuch as this nation never felt; leſs trade than has been known within the memory of man; fewer men fit either for critical negotiations, or great commands, than ever we had; factions ready to make a war at home, with a party ſpirit that will ſacrifice all things to itſelf; a general want of eſteem and reſpect to ſuperiors; jealouſies and fears in the hearts of the beſt affected men; and a growing opinion amongſt good people, that we have not God with us."

FEBRUARY 23. We are informed, that Edward Thurloe, Eſq; King's council, is appointed his Majeſty's ſolicitor-general, in the room of John Dunning, Eſq; who has reſigned.

Eleven ſail of ſhips put up bills for freight and paſſengers for Virginia and Maryland within theſe few days, expecting the affairs of America would have been taken yeſterday into conſideration.

Yeſterday, and not before, the Right Hon. the Earl of Briſtol reſigned the privy ſeal; which was immediately delivered to the Right Hon. the Earl of Halifax.

We hear that the Hon. George Greville, ſon of the Earl of Warwick, is appointed one of the Lords of Trade, in the room of Lord Liſburne, lately appointed a Lord of the Admiralty.

FEBRUARY 24. A great lawyer having been ſhewn the copy of an intended remonſtrance, returned it with his opinion, that though the courtiers and ſycophants might pronounce it high treaſon, there was not a ſingle word inſerted but what he would uphold was warranted by the conſtitution.

It is now certain that ſeveral of the firſt counties in this kingdom will remonſtrate on the ſubject of the inattention paid to their reſpective petitions.

Yeſterday Col. Iſaac Barré preſented to Lord Hillſborough certain remonſtrances, which were ſent him over in charge from his conſtituents in America.

By Letters from ſeveral parts of the country we are informed of the general reſolution of celebrating the day of Mr. Wilkes's enlargement.

Yeſterday ſeveral of the nobility viſited the Right Hon. the Earl of Chatham, at his ſeat at Hayes in Kent.

FEBRUARY 27. His Majeſty has appointed George Pitt, Eſq; to be his ambaſſador at the court of Madrid, in the room of Sir James Grey.

His Majeſty has appointed Col. James Cunningham to be Governor of the iſland of St. John, Newfoundland.

The preſent contention between the people and their repreſentatives, is of ſuch a nature, as calls for the immediate interpoſition of the regal power; for, as the intereſts of the King and people are one and the ſame, and inſeparable, ſo he muſt ſuffer, as his ſubjects do. It is a contention of the moſt alarming nature, and may, if not ſoon remedied, in a conſtitutional way, find a remedy for itſelf, in a diſſolution of the conſtitution. The King hath moſt to loſe, and therefore, is moſt intereſted to make uſe of that conſtitutional interpoſition which is in his power, and which only prevent the fatal effects of an inteſtine commotion. Petitions, diſregarded, may beget remonſtrances, unheeded, may produce ſuch diſturbances, as every one muſt dread, and no one can tell the end of.

FEBRUARY 28. Yeſterday the ſupporters of the Bill of Rights dined at the London tavern in Biſhopſgate-ſtreet; Mr. Serjeant Glynn in the chair, according to the choice of the laſt meeting. After dinner they examined into the ſtate of Mr. Wilkes's affairs, and came to the reſolution of removing every obſtacle which could poſſibly interfere with his enlargement at the expiration of his ſentence.

At the laſt meeting it is ſaid the amount of Mr. Wilkes's debts was reduced to about four thouſand pounds; and it further appeared, that a miniſterial agent had bought up ſixteen hundred pounds, which he is determined not to give a diſcharge for under twenty ſhillings in the pound.

From a number of genuine papers lately publiſhed in the American Gazettes, it appears, the unhappy diſputes between Great-Britain and her colonies, have been chiefly owing to the ill offices of a certain unpopular gentleman who lately arrived from New-England, who has taken every method in his power to deſtroy that confidence which formerly ſubſiſted between us and the Americans. It is aſſerted the above perſon has put this nation to an expence of near two millions, in conſequence of the alarming letters he wrote to England, with reſpect to the Boſtonians.

Dummer Andrews, Eſq; is appointed Regiſter of the Vice-Admiralty Court, lately eſtabliſhed at Charles-Town, in South-Carolina.

MARCH 1. We hear that Serjeant Glynn has pronounced the city remonſtrance to be in every reſpect legal, let what will be the conſequence.

MARCH 2. It is reported, that the duke of Grafton has totally abandoned the preſent adminiſtration, and that upon the American meaſures he will appear againſt them.

We are aſſured, that although a certain Baronet is expected to be acquitted of all American accuſations, he was yeſterday noon informed, by the earl of Hillſborough, that it was not his Majeſty's intention to employ him any more in America, but that he might hope for employment of his abilities, in his maſter's ſervice elſewhere.

MARCH 5. We are aſſured that a great conteſt has ariſen, within theſe few days, between two diſtinguiſhed noblemen in relation to the government of Placentia in Newfoundland, vacant by the death of Otho Hamilton, Eſquire. Lord B---- having appointed one of his friends to that important poſt, and Lord H------ having preſented it to another; and we hear both gentlemen are ſtrenuouſly ſupported by their different patrons.

MARCH 7. In a certain ſociety laſt Friday, L---- C---- concluded a ſpeech, which laſted above an hour, with the following remarkable words: "I do now pledge myſelf to this ſociety for the truth of what I am going to aſſert, that, at this very hour we are ſitting together, there has been a blow of hoſtility ſtruck againſt us, by our old inveterate enemies the French, in ſome one part of the world."

Thomas Daviſon, Eſq; is appointed collector-general of his Majeſty's cuſtoms for the iſland of Jamaica, in the room of Zachariah Bayley, Eſq; deceaſed.

Notwithſtanding the good people of Great-Britain diſcharged the debts on the C---l L---ſt laſt year, to the amount of five hundred and fifty-thouſand pounds ſterling, yet it is reported that the wages and ſalaries of the reſpective officers and ſervants of the K---g are already near five quarters in arrear.

Extract of a Letter from the Hague, dated Feb. 23.

"They write from the Frontiers of Poland, that it is aſtoniſhing to ſee the great numbers of recruits that are daily going to reinforce the reſpective Ruſſian armies, and the quantities of ammunition and proviſions which are ſent thither, Ruſſians knowing how to make a proper advantage of the cold ſeaſon, and to get all they want by means of ſledges. By theſe meaſures Count Romanzow and Count Panin will be able to open the campaign very early, and harraſs the Turks before they can get together in great numbers. Theſe accounts add, it is thought Count Romanzow will paſs the Danube as ſoon as ever the ſeaſon will permit, and endeavour to force the Turks to a battle.

"The famous Capt. Salicetti, who diſtinguiſhed himſelf ſo much in the laſt war in Corſica, has been at the Hague for ſome time paſt in a ſituation very little conſiſtent with his merit. A collection was made for him at Amſterdam, by which he raiſed upwards of 1800 Florins, and another is going to be made here; after which he will go and join General Paoli at London."

Extract of a Letter by the laſt Mail, from the Hague, to a merchant of this city, Feb. 27.

"Things are carrying on here in ſuch a manner, that it is not doubted but a war in Europe is near at hand; for it remains no longer a ſecret that the French and Spaniſh Ambaſſadors have both ſtrongly ſolicited the States-General for their aſſiſtance, in caſe either of their principals ſhould be attacked: But this has abſolutely been refuſed; whereupon they were as ſtrongly preſſed to obſerve a ſtrict neutrality, which I believe is moſt agreeable to the Dutch in general, as thereby they will enjoy the benefit of trade. On the other hand, the king of Pruſſia ſeems (by the demands he has made) to think that, if a war ſhould break out, it will be incumbent on us to take part in it; on which account we augmented our forces both by ſea and land, that we may be prepared for the event. As it is expected that blows will ſoon be ſtruck, I deſire you will inſure the goods that are to be put on board the undermentioned ſhips: the premium given upon thoſe voyages, I muſt leave to your ſuperior judgment."

They write from Amſterdam, that the Dutch merchants had put a ſtop to the further exportation of goods to Curacoa and St. Euſtatia, when it is computed their loſs will amount to ſome millions of guilders already, ſhould a reconciliation take place between England and her American provinces.

The laſt letters from Smyrna mention, that expreſs orders had been received from the Grand Signior to fit out their whole naval force, to be ready to join the Turkiſh admiral in the Archipelago, by the 15th of March next, and in caſe of failure the city was threatened with the fate of rebels to his Sublime Highneſs.

It is confidently ſaid, a proclamation will ſoon be made to recall all his Majeſty's ſubjects from the French and Spaniſh ſervice, on pain of incurring the forfeitures annexed to crimes of high-treaſon.

Yeſterday ſome diſpatches were ſent away from Falmouth to be forwarded for the governors of the reſpective colonies in America.

A patriotic member obſerved on Monday, when a motion was made to poſtpone the further hearing of American affairs, that it was much to be apprehended they would put the buſineſs off once too often.

We have authority to aſſure the public that in conſequence of a late reſolution, not to repeal the duties payable in America on tea, ten captains of ſhips from New-York, who have all winter been waiting in expectation of ſuch repeal, in order to take in their cargoes of Britiſh manufactures, but in which being fatally diſappointed, they immediately went to the New-York coffee-houſe, and tore down their bills, and agreeable to their orders refuſed taking any freight for that colony, to which, if the duties on tea had been repealed, they would have at leaſt taken 300,000l. worth of Britiſh goods this ſpring, inſtead of which they are taking in ballaſt, and giving public notice to take paſſengers, as many Spitalfields and other manufacturers and mechanicks are inclined to ſettle in that country, where the greateſt encouragement is given. Thus inſtead of taking our goods, they are taking the people who heretofore made them. Such are the fatal effects of the non-repeal of the duty on tea.

MARCH 8. Laſt night there was a numerous meeting of the inhabitants of Weſtminſter, Sir Robert Bernard in the chair, to conſider of a Remonſtrance on the preſent poſture of affairs.

It is generally thought, the Miniſtry will be obliged to ſolicit the Earl of Chatham's advice in council, the public affairs being now riſen to ſo nice a criſis.

Letters have been ſent from the Chairman of the Robinhood [a Name which the Engliſh papers have adopted for the Speaker of the Houſe of Commons] to many choſen members of that ſociety, deſiring their early attendance to-morrow, as the ſociety will be divided early upon an important queſtion.

It is ſaid, in a few days, the freeholders of Middleſex will be advertiſed of a meeting to be held at the aſſembly room at Mile-end.

It is ſaid, that certain arrears of laſt year, are of a nature leſs ſuitable to public inſpection, and general examination, than thoſe of any former period.

ST. JAMES'S, February 24. His Majeſty has been pleaſed to appoint the right honourable Sir Edward Hawke, knight of the Bath, John Buller, Eſq; the right honourable Viſcount Palmerſton, of the kingdom of Ireland, Charles Spencer, Eſq; commonly called Lord Charles Spencer, the right honourable Wilmot, Viſcount Liſburn, of the kingdom of Ireland, Francis Holburne, and Charles-James Fox, Eſqrs, to be his commiſſioners for executing the office of Lord High Admiral of Great-Britain and Ireland, and the dominions, iſlands, and territories thereunto reſpectively belonging.

February 26. His Majeſty having been pleaſed to deliver the cuſtody of the Privy Seal to the right honourable George Dunk, earl of Halifax, the oath of keeper of the Privy Seal was this day adminiſtered to him; and his lordſhip took his place at the board accordingly.

This day the right honourable Thomas Robinſon, Eſq; vice-chamberlain of his Majeſty's houſhold, was by his Majeſty's command, ſworn of his Majeſty's moſt honourable Privy Council, and took his place at the board accordingly.

CONSTANTINOPLE, December 18. The Calas or Turkiſh judges in Moldavia and Valachia, having depoſed before the Divan, that the inhabitants of thoſe provinces had reſolved not to defend themſelves againſt the Ruſſians, but to ſurrender to them; the Sultan has declared them all rebels, and conſequently that they deſerve to be puniſhed with death. The Sultan has accordingly publiſhed an ordinance, by which three Pachas are ordered to go into Moldavia and Valachia, with a conſiderable body of troops, to drive out the enemy from thence, and likewiſe to kill all the inhabitants, even the women and children, except they conſent to embrace the law of Mahomet.

HAGUE, February 13. People who are well acquainted with the buſineſs of this country ſay, that by the late arrets publiſhed at Paris reſpecting the funds, the province of Holland alone ſuffers a loſs of three millions; which we may very well conceive when we conſider how much the Dutch are engaged in the French funds. A liſt has lately been privately handed about here of the moſt conſiderable bankruptcies that have happened in France for ſome time paſt; at the head of which is placed his Moſt Chriſtian Majeſty.

TRIESTE, January 24. The Greeks and Sclavonians are employed with great diligence in the conſtruction of ſeveral ſmall veſſels, which are intended for the ſervice of the Ruſſian fleet. The inhabitants of Lacedemonia are likewiſe preparing great armaments, and wait only the arrival of the ſaid fleet, to act in concert with them againſt the Porte. Thoſe of Peloponneſus are come to the ſame reſolution, and the Turks around, terrified at theſe preparations, think of nothing but providing for their ſafety in flight, or ſubmitting without reſiſtance to the Ruſſians, the moment their fleet ſhall appear on the coaſt. The provinces of Oxiromera, Zymaza, and Sfata, in the iſle of Candia, likewiſe wait their coming with the greateſt impatience. Count d'Onſlow has ſent eighty tons of powder, two hundred and fifty quintals of lead, and a number of cheſts filled with all ſorts of arms, to Zymaza; and prince Dolgoruki has diſpatched to the Montenegrins, a thouſand tons of gunpowder, with a large quantity of balls and muſkets. The latter, accompanied by a number of Sclavonians, is returned to Dalmatia, where he has been received with the greateſt demonſtration of joy. The Montenegrins have attacked and carried Baſina, Zerzegavina, and ſeveral other places.

CONSTANTINOPLE, January 3. Halil Bey, ſon of Aivaz Pacha Beglerbeg of Romelia, upon his arrival at the camp at Babadag, was declared vizir; and Moldovangi Aly Pacha, the depoſed vizir is ſentenced to be exiled to Rhodes.

We have received advice, that three of our Pachas, after having aſſembled near Galatch a body of 50,000 men, to drive the enemy out of Moldavia, and puniſh the inhabitants, had been routed by the Ruſſians with ſuperior forces, and purſued as far as the Danube, with a loſs of ſome thouſands of men.

On the 18th the Grand Signior's ſecond maſter of the horſe, ſet out for the army with a conſiderable eſcort, in order to diſtribute 500,000 dollars among the Janiſſaries, who began to be much diſſatisfied, and refuſed to ſtay any longer. Two hundred gunners and twenty engineers are likewiſe ſent to the army, and will be followed by more.

WARSAW, February 5. By advices from the head quarters of count Romanzow's army, at Laticzow, we learn, that a large body of Ruſſian infantry, commanded by general Potemken, and of horſe, under the orders of general Podhoryczani, attacked the Turks the 14th of laſt month, and after a very briſk engagement, the enemy, though greatly ſuperior in number, were obliged to retire, leaving two thouſand perſons dead on the ſpot.

From the Frontiers of TURKEY, January 14. The preparations of the Turks for the enſuing campaign are extremely great, and they intend to increaſe their force by 300,000 men, which the Grand Vizir propoſes to command himſelf, and they are at work night and day in making arms for the recruits.

LATYCZOW, February 2. A courier from Moldavia, has juſt brought advice to count Romanzow, that on the 18th ult. a body of 3000 Ruſſians attacked near Fora, 8000 Turks, of whom 3000 were left dead on the ſpot. This courier was charged with ſome valuable effects taken in this action from the Turks, ſome of which are for our general in chief, and others are for the other generals. We have now no doubt that the Ruſſians will ſoon make themſelves maſters of the fortreſs of Brohilow; and that the Valachians will ſend deputies to Peterſburgh, to implore her Imperial Majeſty's protection.

MESSRS. SHACKELFORD & LUPTAN having reſigned over ſundry Bonds and Notes to us the Subſcribers, for the Benefit of their Creditors, we give this public Notice, that all ſuch Bonds and Notes, that are not diſcharged by the firſt day of June next, will be then put into an Attorney's Hands, and ſued for immediately.

THOMAS SHUBRICK,
GEORGE INGLIS.

BOSTON, March 19.

The following is the Substance of Letters addressed by the Committee of the Town to divers Gentlemen of the first Diſtinction and Character in London.

SIR,

THE Town of Boſton, now legally convened at Faneuil-Hall, have directed us their Committee to acquaint you of their preſent miſerable Situation, occaſioned by the Exorbitancy of the Military Power, which, in Conſequence of the Intrigues of wicked and deſigning Men, and as Britiſh Subjects, have long ſince been ſtationed among us.

The Soldiers ever ſince the fatal Day of their Arrival, have treated us with an Inſolence which diſcovered in them an early Prejudice againſt us, as being that rebellious People which our implacable Enemies had maliciouſly repreſented us to be.—They landed in the Town with all the Appearance of Hoſtility!—They marched through the Town with all the Enſigns of Triumph! and evidently deſigned to ſubject the Inhabitants to the ſevere Diſcipline of a Garriſon. They have been continuing their Enormities by abuſing the People, reſcuing Priſoners out of the Hand of Juſtice, and even firing upon the Inhabitants in the Street, when in the Peace of God and the King, and when we have applied for Redreſs in the Courſe of the Law of the Land, our Magiſtrates and Courts of Juſtice have appeared to be overawed by them, and ſuch a Degree of mean Submiſſion has been ſhewn to them, as has given the greateſt Diſguſt even to the coolеſt and moſt judicious Perſons in the Community. Such has been the general State of the Town.

On Friday the 2d Inſt. a Quarrel aroſe between ſome of the Soldiers of the XXIXth, and the Ropemaker's Journeymen and Apprentices, which was carried to that Length as to become dangerous to the Lives of each Party: This contentious Diſpoſition continued until the Monday Evening following, when a Party of ſeven or eight Soldiers, detached from the Main Guard under the command of Captain Preſton, and by his Orders fired upon the Inhabitants promiſcuouſly in King-ſtreet without the leaſt warning of their Intention, and killed three on the ſpot, another has ſince died of his Wounds, and others are dangerouſly not to ſay mortally wounded; Captain Preſton and his Party are now in Goal. An Enquiry is now making into this bloody Affair; and by ſome of the Evidence there is Reaſon to apprehend that the Soldiers have been made uſe of by others as Inſtruments in executing a ſettled Plot to Maſſacre the Inhabitants. There had been but a little Time before a Murder committed in the Street by two Perſons of infamous Character, who had been employed by the Commiſſioners and Cuſtom-Houſe Officers. In the preſent Inſtance there are Witneſſes who ſwear, that, when the Soldiers fired, ſeveral Muſquets were diſcharged from the Houſe where the Commiſſioners Board is kept, before which the ſhocking Tragedy was acted; and a Boy, Servant to one Manwaring, a petty Officer in the Cuſtoms, has upon Oath accuſed his Maſter of firing a Gun upon the People out of a Window of the ſame Houſe, a Number of Perſons being at the ſame Time in the Room; and he confeſſes that himſelf being threatened with Death if he refuſed, diſcharged a Gun, twice by the Orders of that Company; but as it has been impoſſible for any Perſons to collect a State of Facts hitherto, we are directed by the Town to give you this ſhort Intimation of the Matter for the preſent, and to intreat your Friendſhip to prevent any ill Impreſſions from being made upon the Minds of his Majeſty's Miniſters and others againſt the Town by the Accounts which the Commiſſioners of the Cuſtoms and others our Enemies may ſend, until the Town ſhall be able to make a full Repreſentation of it; which will be addreſſed to you by the next Conveyance.

This horrible Tranſaction has occaſioned the greateſt Anxiety and Diſtreſs in the Minds of the Inhabitants, who have ever ſince been neceſſitated to keep up their own Military Watch. And his Majeſty's Council were ſo ſoon convinced of the imminent Danger of the Troops being any longer in the Town, that upon Application being made by the Inhabitants, they immediately and unanimouſly adviſed the Lieutenant-Governor to effect their Removal: And Lieutenant Colonel Dalrymple, the preſent commanding Officer, is now removing all the Troops to Caſtle-William.

We are with ſtrict Truth, Sir,

Boſton, 12 March, 1770. Your moſt faithful, and obedient Servants.

NEW-YORK, March 19.

Juſt arrived in the Sloop Batchelor, Joram Place, Maſter, from Penſacola, Francis Lowndes, late Mate of the Schooner Britain, belonging to Mr. Athanaſius Ford, Merchant, of Maryland, brings the following Account. That on the 5th of January 1769, they ſailed from Maryland, in the Schooner Britain, John Steel, Maſter, bound for New-Orleans, having on board 57 Dutch, 34 French, and 15 Engliſh Paſſengers, and a few European Goods, belonging to the Owner of the ſaid Veſſel; and on the 21ſt of February, made the Land on the Continent about 10 or 15 Leagues to the Southward and Weſtward of the River Miſſiſippi, but by thick Fogs, and Eaſterly Winds, were drove about 80 Leagues to the Southward and Weſtward of the ſaid River; where being entirely out of Proviſions and Water, was on the 17th of March, forced into an Inlet, a very good Harbour, in which Place they found two Indian Families, who conducted them up the Country to a Spaniſh Fort, called Lavadeah Eſpiritu Santo, Diſtance about 40 Leagues from the ſaid Harbour; here they made Application to Captain Don Franciſco Thovar, for a Paſs, and Proviſions for the ſaid Schooner, the Spaniſh Captain immediately came down to the Sea Coaſt, accompanied by his Lieutenant, a Spaniſh Prieſt, 40 or 50 Soldiers, together with 4 or 500 Horſes, Mules, &c. and ordered Captain John Steel on ſhore with his Papers and Clearances for the ſaid Veſſel, which he took and kept from him; and further, ordered him immediately on board, to land all the Paſſengers, with all their Goods and Baggage, together with the Owner's Merchandize, Sails, Rigging and Apparel, and all other Materials belonging to the ſaid Veſſel; and for the further Performance of the above Orders, he ſent an Officer and Soldiers on board to put his Commands immediately in Execution. Mr. Philip Ford, our Supercargo, then deſired him to furniſh the Schooner with Proviſions, that ſhe might proceed on her intended Voyage; he offered him any Price he ſhould aſk, and would give him any Bonds he ſhould require, on any Place he had Acquaintance; he likewiſe offered to remain as Hoſtage at his Fort, or any other Perſon ſhould or would go he choſed on board, till ſuch Time a Certificate was returned of the Veſſel's Arrival at Orleans; the Prieſt before mentioned likewiſe offered to give gratis, a ſufficient Quantity of Cattle to furniſh the ſaid Veſſel, if he would let her depart that Place: All which Propoſals he abſolutely denied; and purſuant to his firſt Sentence, had every Thing landed, with all Diſpatch poſſible; ſeveral of the Paſſengers not being willing to aſſiſt in landing their Effects, very ſeverely got the Baſtinadoes: Every Thing being landed, he carried all up to his Fort, where he forced the Veſſel's Crew and Paſſengers to hard Labour all the Day, Mr. Philip Ford, our Supercargo, only excepted, and obliging them to keep Guard at Nights, along with the Soldiers of the Fort. On the 22d of May, he thought proper to put the Captain and Mate in the Stocks, and there kept them upon very ſhort Allowance for 14 Days and Nights, which reduced them greatly; in this melancholly Manner, Matters were till the 15th of June, when Orders came from the Governor of that Province, they ſhould be releaſed, and the People diſcharged from their Labour; then on or about the 11th of Auguſt, the ſaid Captain Don Franciſco Thovar, compelled our Supercargo to take into his Cuſtody his Merchandize, which he was under the Neceſſity of doing, in order to tranſport himſelf out of the Province; he likewiſe ordered and endeavoured to force Captain John Steel, to take his Sails, Rigging, and Veſſel's Materials, which the ſaid Steel abſolutely denied, as the Sails were then rotten and uſeleſs, and moſt of the Rigging loſt and deſtroyed; likewiſe we were ſeveral Times informed the Veſſel was totally loſt and cut to Pieces by the Indians, which was very probable, as ſhe had been entirely deſerted ſince the 8th Day of April; the aforeſaid Captain Thovar thought proper to detain us till the 11th of September, when the Captain of another Fort was ſent by his Excellency the Governor of that Province to conduct us through the Country 300 Leagues, to a Town called Nanketouch, on a Branch of the Miſſiſippi; we travelled this long Journey on our own Expence, and were 44 Days in performing it, ſuffering greatly by the heavy Rains that fell, together with the Want of Proviſions, &c. From Nanketouch we embarked on board Canoes for Orleans, at which Place we arrived on the 9th of November, and laid our Grievances before General O'Reily, who took our Declarations, and had them tranſlated into Spaniſh, and aſſured us he would take all poſſible Meaſures for recovering Damages for the Hoſtilities committed on the ſaid Veſſel, and had diſpatched a Packet to the Vice-Roy of Mexico for that Purpoſe: From Orleans we came to Penſacola, and entered a Proteſt, and made our Diſtreſſes known to his Excellency Governor Dunford, who received us with great Humanity, and made Proviſion for us whilſt there, likewiſe paid our Paſſages to this City; we left our Supercargo in Penſacola, as his Excellency and Council had, or were near, upon agreeing to ſend a King's Ship to Vera-Cruze, to demand Satisfaction for the ſtopping and detaining the ſaid Veſſel, with all other Coſts and Charges accruing thereto, &c.

FRANCIS LOWNDES.

April 2. On the 5th Ultimo, 45 reputable Mechanicks aſſembled at Mr. Delanoy's, from thence they proceeded to Mr. Phillips's, when being joined by as many as completed the reſpectable and never to be forgotten Number 92, they marched in Proceſſion to the New-Goal, in order to pay their Reſpects to the celebrated Priſoner, by whom they were received with the Politeneſs of a Gentleman, and entertained with all the Affability, Openneſs and Candor of a Friend.------After ſpending ſome Time (drinking a few loyal Healths, calling to Mind the noble Patriots Eaſt and Weſt, and in particular the immortal 92 of the Maſſachuſetts, together with all the real Friends to the Rights of human Nature, both in Great-Britain and her Colonies, eſpecially thoſe who had or might ſtand forth in the Defence of the Preſs) they took their Leave of their common Friend, and retired with the greateſt Order and Decency.

On Monday laſt 45 and 92 Ladies (making 137) met at the Houſe of Mr. Arthur M'Neil, at the Head of Chapel-ſtreet, from whence they went in regular Proceſſion to the New-Goal, to viſit Mr. M'Dougall. Two Chambers were prepared for their Reception, where they were entertained with Tea and Cakes; and after that, they ſung a Number of patriotic Songs, then took their Leave of him. From the Goal they went in regular Proceſſion through Chapel-ſtreet, amidſt a vaſt Number of Spectators, to wait on Mrs. M'Dougall Home, who was with the Company; the moſt of whom were pleaſed, that ſo many of the Daughters of Liberty patronized the glorious Cauſe, which daily gains Friends of both Sexes.

PHILADELPHIA, April 19.

By Captain May, from Barcelona, we learn, that the Ship Thetis, Captain Gregory, belonging to Baltimore, arrived there before he ſailed; that Captain Gregory informed him, that on his Paſſage, off the Weſtern Iſlands, he fell in with a Brig belonging to New-York, bound to the Coaſt of Barbary, in a very leaky Condition, the Captain of which put a Cheſt, containing about 4000 Dollars, on board his Ship, with a Deſign to leave the Brig, in caſe he could not keep her above Water; that he ſent his ſecond Mate on board the Brig to aſſiſt them, but in the Night they were ſeparated by a Gale of Wind; that the next Day the Ship's Company, expecting the Brig had foundered, mutinied, and took Poſſeſſion of the Money, which they divided, and kept Captain Gregory and his Mate Priſoners for 27 Days; that at laſt they contrived a Scheme to quarrel together, when the Captain kicked the Mate out of the Cabbin, who (ſeemingly in Revenge) went upon Deck, and pretended to join the Mutineers, which they gladly embraced, as they wanted his Aſſiſtance to navigate the Veſſel; that upon the Mate's joining them, they were for immediately killing the Captain; but upon his repreſenting that the Captain had thrown his Quadrant overboard, and he could not uſe the Captain's, being one of Hadley's, they ordered the Captain on Deck every Day to take an Obſervation, directing him to carry the Ship to the Iſle of St. Vincent, where they intended to run her aſhore; but he luckily ordered her Courſe ſo that they got off the Bay of Cadiz in the Night, and when Day-light appeared, they ſaw the Ships in the Harbour; they then made the Captain ſwear not to mention what had been done, or they would immediately throw him overboard; but when he got in he run under the Stern of an Engliſh Man of War, and hailing her, a Boat came and took them all (Nine in Number) on board; that they were afterwards tried, when five of them were condemned, and ſent to Gibraltar to be hanged, and the other four were kept on board the Man of War. The New-York Brig arrived at Cadiz ſome Time before the Ship, and recovered all the Money.

Extract of a Letter from New-York, March 23.

"The cauſe of the American Patriot goes on very well as yet; he is clever and holds faſt his integrity: The enemies of American freedom, could not have pitched upon a more fit perſon for the purpoſe, and I believe they are ſick of their bargain. A trap was laid for him lately, but it did not ſucceed: They were in great hopes he would be bailed out on Monday laſt, in order to join with his brethren in celebrating the repeal of the infamous Stamp-act, at Hamden-Hall, and if they had once got him out they would not have let him in again; but he foreſaw this, and ſtaid in goal, contrary to the ſolicitations of ſome of his friends. The Sheriff actually waited on him, expecting he would be applied to for that purpoſe; but after ſome time, was informed the Captain would ſtay where he was.

"I don't imagine the friends of arbitrary power will be able to accompliſh their purpoſes in this province, the eyes of people are daily opening more and more, and all the arts of the Ottoman Family will be inſufficient to prevent their attending to their true intereſt when once they ſee it."

Extract of another letter of the ſame date.

"The anniverſary of the repeal of the Stamp-act, was celebrated here on Monday laſt, by the Tory Party as well as the real friends of Liberty; among the toaſts publiſhed by them is the Liberty of the Preſs; is it not curious to ſee the abettors of arbitrary power toaſting the Liberty of the Preſs, and that in a few weeks after the daring attack they made upon it in the affair of Capt. M'Dougall? they may ſay what they will, and make what profeſſions they pleaſe in favour of liberty; but as long as their actions contradict them, no man in his ſenſes will believe them."

SAVANNAH, (in Georgia) April 25.

Monday laſt being St. George's Day, the Union Society met at the houſe of Mr. Peter Tondee, and choſe their annual officers as follows, viz. Meſſrs. Joſeph Parker and Thomas Lee, ſenior, Stewards; Mr. William Evans, Secretary; and Meſſrs. Thomas Morgan and Frederick Herb, Conſtables. A genteel entertainment was provided on the occaſion, at which a number of gentlemen invited by the members were preſent; and the day was ſpent in their uſual ſociable manner.

Yeſterday ſailed for Philadelphia, the Brig Georgia Packet, Capt. Souder, in which went paſſengers, Mrs. Heriot Crooke, the Rev. Mr. Whitefield, Mr. William Teiſair, Mr. Robert Crooke, Mr. Joſeph Wood, jun. and ſome others. Before Mr. Whitefield's embarkation he took in nine or ten orphan children, made an addition of a new Chapel, and left every thing in great forwardneſs towards bringing to a concluſion his intended plan at the Orphanhouſe Academy.

BASSETERRE, (in St. Chriſtopher) February 17.

Lately the wife of Patrick O'Byrne, Eſq; of Mount-Pitude, in the iſland of St. Croix, was delivered of twins in the 54th year of her age. Her labour was ſo ſevere that her life was deſpaired of by the Phyſicians, which occaſioned Mr. O'Byrne's being wrote to by four old ladies of conſiderable fortunes, acquainting him that their perſons and fortunes were at his ſervice, and a gentleman of his abilities was all they wanted to render them happy; but to their great mortification the lady is in a fair way of recovery.

February 21. Letters from Grenada, bring diſagreeable accounts of the ſituation of that iſland; the preſent ---------- having ſuſpended the ſix moſt reſpectable gentlemen of the iſland from being Members of his Majeſty's Council there, for oppoſing his attempt to introduce French Roman Catholicks into the Council and adminiſtration of the Engliſh laws. This has given the moſt general alarm to all the Engliſh ſubjects, (the few leagued in this ſcheme with the French excepted) and, we hear, has produced a firm and determined reſolution in them not to pay a ſhilling of taxes to be impoſed by, or to ſubmit to any other act of, the ſucceeding Council, which is compoſed partly of French profeſſed Roman Catholicks, and partly of the few Engliſh ſubjects, who from intereſted views, from diſappointed vanity, and from other worſe motives, are in their intereſt. Some time ago a bill was brought into the Houſe of Aſſembly, for laying a tax on veſſels, for the purpoſe of defraying the expence of a phyſician going on board to viſit them for diſtempered perſons, but was ſtrenuouſly oppoſed, eſpecially by Mr. M'Vicar; on which account an elegant entertainment was provided for the above gentleman on board the ſhip Minerva, Capt. John Derby, for his patriotic behaviour. Mr. M'Vicar was ſaluted by moſt of the veſſels in the harbour of St. George on his way to the Minerva, and on his going aboard received a royal ſalute. The following toaſts were drank on the above occaſion: The King; the Queen and Royal Family; all the friends of Liberty and the Britiſh Conſtitution; the Governor and Colony; the Pennſylvania Farmer; the Maſſachuſetts Houſe of Repreſentatives; the Patriotic Merchants of Boſton, New-York, and Philadelphia; ſpeedy redreſs of Grievances to North-America, and perpetual Unanimity between Great-Britain and her Colonies; the Virginia Houſe of Burgeſſes; may the trade between North-America and Grenada long flouriſh, and afford equal benefit to each; Mr. M'VICAR.

"Advices from New-York for ſome Time paſt have mentioned a Jealouſy among the Weſtern Indians on Account of ſome Encroachments which they ſay have been made on their Lands, and that Confederacies were forming amongſt them. A Letter of April 12th ſays, "We have a Report here of an Indian War; "nay, it was confidently ſaid Yeſterday that Detroit was in- "veſted, but on Enquiry we find there is no Account of it by "Authority come to the General." Late Advices are ſilent on the Affair."

"The Party of Shawaneſe Indians, formerly mentioned, is ſtill in the Creek-Country. Oucconoſtota, and other principal Warriors and Chiefs of the Cherokees, refuſed to receive any of their Talks, or to have any Thing to do with them."

"From Weſt-Florida, we learn, that two White Men had been killed between Mobille and the Creek-Country. The Mortar and other Creek Head-men diſclaimed any Knowledge of the Murders, and declared their Readineſs to deliver up the Murderers, ſhould they be diſcovered to be of their Nation. The ſix Companies of the 31ſt Regiment were arrived from St. Auguſtine at Penſacola, which laſt named Place we are informed is immediately to be put in a State of Defence, and that Brigadier General Haldimand commanding his Majeſty's Forces in the Southern Diſtrict is ſailed for Penſacola from St. Auguſtine. The Spaniards have eſtabliſhed and garriſoned ſeveral Poſts on the Lakes Maurepas and Pontchartrain, and other Places on the Frontiers of Weſt-Florida, ſo that it is almoſt impoſſible for any of the French Inhabitants of New Orleans to get out of the Country."

SATURDAY AFTERNOON the Ship POLLY, GEORGE INSHALL, Maſter, arrived here from LIVERPOOL, by whom we have received the following ADVICES, viz.

LONDON, MARCH 8.

A Correſpondent informs us, that yeſterday morning the Right Hon. the Earl of Hillſborough, had a grand levee at his lordſhip's houſe, in Berkley-ſquare, at which were preſent a great number of American merchants and colony agents, who met in hopes of obtaining ſtill farther conceſſions in favour of the colonies.---And that this day there was a numerous meeting of the principal American merchants, at the King's Arms tavern in Cornhill, on buſineſs of importance. In the morning moſt of the ſhips in the colony-trade diſplayed flags and ſtreamers; and we hear, goods to the value of half a million ſterling are preparing to be exported to the different provinces with all expedition.

It is ſaid orders are ſent to Boſton to ſend home the greateſt part of the troops, that for ſo many months paſt have occupied the capital of New-England.

Though it is generally believed the report of the taking of the Phœnix man of war by the Spaniards in the Weſt-Indies is premature, it is a prevailing opinion in the mercantile world, that the next packet from New-York will bring ſome accounts as will greatly change the face of affairs, as well there as in Europe.

The thoughts of the intelligent are now placed upon an approaching war, and we are aſſured the commencing hoſtilities with a neighbouring power is the ſerious advice of L--d C----m. The M------y, it is ſaid, from ſome late information, expect every day to receive an account of ſome hoſtile operations of a foreign court, in a certain quarter of the world, where their force on the concluſion of the laſt war was very inconſiderable; but from ſome late augmentations has now become apprehenſively formidable.

We hear a noble Lord's reaſons for alledging that our inveterate enemies the French, have already ſtruck an important blow againſt this nation in a certain quarter of the globe, are actually preparing to be laid before an auguſt Aſſembly.

We are informed by a gentleman lately arrived from the Conqueſt, that about five weeks ago there were 26 ſhips of war at Cadiz, near 20 of which are ſhips of the line, ready to put to ſea at two hours notice, and ſeveral of their ſails were actually bent; and that there were near the ſame number in the Caraccas, that would be ready to go to ſea in a week.

At a meeting laſt night of a conſiderable number of the electors of Weſtminſter, at the Standard tavern in Leiceſter-fields, among whom were Sir Robert Bernard, Bart. and other gentlemen of fortune, it was moved, to follow the example which had been ſo nobly ſet to the whole kingdom, by the City of London, preſenting a REMONSTRANCE to his Majeſty. It was urged in favour of the Meaſure, that there was an obvious propriety in the two great cities going in the ſame track; there being as well by ſituation, as trade, and other circumſtances, a cloſe and material connection between them. The motion was received with the warmeſt approbation. It was then moved, to enquire whether any gentleman had drawn up, or intended to draw up, a Remonſtrance: Upon which the heads of a Remonſtrance were produced and read, and unanimouſly agreed to. A committee of twelve were then appointed to ſettle and adjuſt ſeveral points were neceſſary, for a general meeting of electors in Weſtminſter-hall; and to advertiſe the ſame as ſoon as poſſible.

At the ſame time the ſum of fifty pounds (being part of a ſum ſubſcribed at the laſt meeting) was voted to be immediately paid to the Society for the Support of the Bill of Rights, at the Crown tavern, to be by that Society applied to the ſole uſe and ſervice of John Wilkes, Eſq; and as ſeveral members of the aſſociation at the Standard tavern happened to be abſent, the ſubſcription was ordered to continue open.

Soon after the Sheriffs were gone from Buckingham Houſe, on Tueſday afternoon, (without being able to ſee his Majeſty) Lord Bute came, and had a conference with his Majeſty for a conſiderable time: And,

About nine o'clock the ſame evening, his Majeſty paid a viſit to the Princeſs Dowager of Wales at Carlton Houſe.

About eight o'clock the next morning (yeſterday) Lord Weymouth, in conſequence of a letter he received late the preceding evening, waited upon his Majeſty at Buckingham Houſe. And towards noon there was a Council; at which Lord Gower, Lord Egremont, Lord Weymouth, &c. &c. aſſiſted.

The City Remonſtrance, it is certain, has greatly embarraſſed the Court; but the reſolution at length come to, is this; "To receive it in the uſual way, upon the throne; to give it an anſwer, and to communicate the remonſtrance and anſwer to the two Houſes of Parliament."

They write from Jamaica, that if all the Britiſh naval force at preſent on the American or Weſt-India ſtations were collected together, it would not be a match for half the force which the Spaniards and French have now in that quarter, nor was the leaſt doubt entertained, but one or other of his Majeſty's ſettlements would ſuffer invaſion.

As ſoon as the hall broke up the Sheriffs went to St. James's, to know his Majeſty's pleaſure when he would permit the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, Recorder, and Common-Councilmen, to wait upon him with the remonſtrance; but his Majeſty being at dinner could not then receive an anſwer.

Accordingly they went again yeſterday at half an hour after ten to St. James's to know his Majeſty's pleaſure when he would be waited on with the city addreſs, remonſtrance, and petition; they waited till twenty minutes after two, when the levee being over, they, with the remembrancer, were admitted into the cloſet, when Mr. Sheriff Townſhend addreſſed himſelf to his Majeſty in the following words:

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

"By order of the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Livery of the City of London, in common-hall aſſembled, we took the earlieſt opportunity, as was our duty, to wait upon your Majeſty; and were prevented by one of your Majeſty's houſhold who informed us that it was your Majeſty's pleaſure to receive us this day, wait upon your Majeſty humbly to know when your Majeſty will pleaſe to be attended with an humble addreſs, remonſtrance, and petition."

To which his Majeſty was pleaſed to return the following anſwer:

"As the caſe is entirely new, I will take time to conſider it, and tranſmit you an anſwer by one of my principal ſecretaries of ſtate."

Notwithſtanding what has been pretended to the contrary, we aſſure the public, that the account in our paper of the Sheriffs addreſs and ſpeech to the King, with his Majeſty's anſwer thereto, is true; with theſe additional circumſtances. Whilſt the Sheriffs were waiting on Wedneſday, Lord Denbigh came up to the Remembrancer, and aſked him whether the Addreſs, &c. was ſigned and ſealed; or how it was authenticated? The Remembrancer ſaid, he was a City officer, and that it was no part of his office to give Lord Denbigh an anſwer to his queſtion. Lord Denbigh then went to Mr. Sheriff Townſhend, and aſked him whether the buſineſs which brought him here was not new and regular; and whether the City had ever preſented a Remonſtrance to a King before? Mr. Townſhend replied with another queſtion. Did ever a King of England before turn a deaf ear to the petitions of 60,000 freeholders, and his back on thoſe who preſented them? Lord Denbigh then aſked what made a corporate act? Mr. Townſhend laughing, anſwered, an act of the corporation to be ſure.

On Thurſday evening the Sheriffs received the following letter from Lord Weymouth:

"Gentlemen, St. James's, March 8, 1770.

"The King commands me to inform you, in conſequence of the meſſage which you brought yeſterday to St. James's, that he is always ready to receive applications from any of his ſubjects; but as the preſent caſe of Addreſs, Remonſtrance and Petition, ſeems entirely new, I am commanded to enquire of you, in what manner it is authenticated, and what the nature of the aſſembly was, in which this meaſure was adopted?---When you furniſh me with anſwers to theſe queſtions, I ſhall ſignify to you his Majeſty's further pleaſure.

I am, Gentlemen,
your moſt obedient humble ſervant,
WEYMOUTH."

Yeſterday noon, at twenty minutes after twelve, the Sheriffs went to St. James's. About one, Lord Bolingbroke, the Lord in waiting came. The Remembrancer told him, that the Sheriffs of London were attending his Majeſty's pleaſure, and that they required an audience. Some time after Lord Bolingbroke came out, and enquired of the Sheriffs whether he was to tell his Majeſty that they came with a freſh meſſage, or with a meſſage? The Sheriffs anſwered, With a meſſage. Soon after the two Secretaries of State, Lord Rochford and Lord Weymouth, came to the Sheriffs. Lord Weymouth aſked them, "Whether they had received his letter, which was written by his Majeſty's order?"

Sheriffs. "We have."

Lord Weymouth, "His Majeſty deſires to know, whether you come in conſequence of that letter; or whether you come on any freſh buſineſs?"

Sheriffs. "We come in conſequence of that letter."

Lord Weymouth. "Would it not be more proper to ſend an anſwer in writing through me?"

Sheriffs. "We act miniſterially. As Sheriffs of London we have a right to an audience; and cannot communicate to any other perſon than the King, the ſubject of our meſſage."

Lord Weymouth. "I do not diſpute your right to an audience; but would it not be better and more accurate to give your meſſage to me in writing?"

Sheriffs. "We know the value and conſequence of the Citizens right to apply immediately to the King, and not to a third perſon; and we do not mean that any of their rights and privileges ſhall be betrayed by our means."

His Majeſty's levee began at a quarter paſt two, at which time the two Secretaries came to the Sheriffs, and Lord Weymouth ſaid, "His Majeſty underſtanding that you come miniſterially, authorized with a meſſage from the City of London, will ſee you as ſoon as the levee is over."

As ſoon as the levee was over, the Sheriffs were introduced into the King's cloſet. The King did not, as uſual, receive them alone, but Lord Gower, Lord Rochford, and Lord Weymouth were preſent. Mr. Sheriff Townſhend addreſſed his Majeſty in theſe words:

"May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

"When we had laſt the honour to appear before your Majeſty, your Majeſty was graciouſly pleaſed to promiſe an ANSWER by one of your Majeſty's Principal Secretaries of State; but we had yeſterday QUESTIONS propoſed to us by Lord Weymouth. In anſwer to which we beg leave humbly to inform your Majeſty, that the application which we make to your Majeſty, we make as Sheriffs of the city of London, by the direction of the Livery in Common-Hall legally aſſembled. The Addreſs, Remonſtrance, and Petition, to be preſented to your Majeſty, by their Chief Magiſtrate, is the act of the Citizens of London in their greateſt Court; and is ordered by them to be properly authenticated as their act."

To which his Majeſty was moſt graciouſly pleaſed to reply, in theſe moſt gracious and condeſcending words to the city of London:

"I will conſider of the anſwer you have given me."

Whereupon the Sheriffs withdrew.

When the Sheriffs went into the Cloſet, the City Remembrancer, according to his office and duty, would have attended them; but Lord Bolingbroke (like a Swiſs Porter) rudely ſhoved him back; inſiſting upon it, that he had not a right to go in, and ſhould not enter there, When the Sheriffs audience was ended, the Remembrancer, like a man, an Engliſhman, and a worthy officer of a great and powerful city, very ſpiritedly and properly told Lord Bolingbroke, that his Lordſhip had done wrong; for that as Remembrancer, attending the Sheriffs, he had a right to enter the Cloſet with the Sheriffs. Lord Bolingbroke ſaid, It might perhaps be ſo; but that he had never been in waiting on ſuch an occaſion before, and hoped he never ſhould again.

MARCH 10. The reports of a ſpeedy rupture with France and Spain daily gain ground; and we are well aſſured, that the Miniſtry have reſolved to take the neceſſary precautions to prevent being ſurprized. We can only with confidence aſſert, that not only ſeveral ſhips of war are now fitting out at Portſmouth, Plymouth, and Chatham, which will be immediately put in commiſſion, but that ſeveral additional regiments will alſo be raiſed, and thoſe already on foot recruited to their full complement.

Beating orders are iſſued out to the recruiting officers in Hampſhire, and other parts of England, to inliſt recruits for the marine ſervice.

The Right Honourable Sir Edward Hawke will ſet out in a few days on a ſurvey of the royal dock-yards at Portſmouth, Plymouth, Sheerneſs, and Chatham.

This morning very large inſurances were done at Lloyd's, and other principal offices in the city, on Britiſh ſhips and merchandize outward bound, on very advanced premiums.

We are aſſured, that categorical anſwers have actually been demanded of two foreign courts, and returns to which will probably determine whether this nation is likely to continue in peace, or be involved in war.

In conſequence of ſome important determinations at the laſt board of Admiralty, diſpatches are now preparing with the utmoſt expedition, for the commander of the Britiſh ſquadron in the Mediterranean.

We learn from very good authority, that a certain diſtinguiſhed Nobleman had a private conference yeſterday with a Great Perſonage, on the ſubject of ſome very important information, which his Lordſhip made public ſoon after in an auguſt aſſembly.

Yeſterday there was a Privy Council at St. James's, at which moſt of the great officers of ſtate aſſiſted, ſuppoſed to be in conſequence of the Remonſtrance.

Letters from Conſtantinople aſſure, that the Janiſſaries there are every day expected to mutiny, upon account of their arrears not having been for ſome time paid, and that a general plunder and maſſacre of all the chriſtian inhabitants is greatly to be apprehended.

No Miniſters were ever ſo embarraſſed as the preſent; deſpiſed and hated from one end of England to the other: Supported by corruption, and the influence of Carlton Houſe, is it to be wondered at that freſh diſputes break out every day, owing to their miſmanagements and wickedneſs?---One hour the preſumptuous citizens are to be humbled; another hour, in their rage, they are for expelling the Lord Mayor, and Lutterlizing the City. One hour they determine to receive the Remonſtrance, and give it an anſwer, to communicate the anſwer to the two Houſes of Parliament, who, in return, are to preſent addreſſes of thanks. Another hour they conſult their Scottiſh lawyer, who adviſes them to enquire after forms and authorities, in order to find or make a flaw, and get rid of it that way. The ſpirit of the Sheriffs, however, has baffled the cunning and art of the Scottiſh lawyers;---and now they are all in a ſtate of delirium.

Lord Mansfield and Sir Fletcher Norton (who are the Court lawyers of the day) are almoſt hourly conſulted by the preſent Miniſtry, in regard to their diſpute with the City.

Among the many late arrangements that have taken place in the cabinet, the following is implicitly practiſed by the preſent Pr----r: "That any affair, of the leaſt importance, muſt be firſt debated in C---t-n Houſe." In conſequence of this, there was a very great conſultation there, at which his G--ce of G--f--n aſſiſted, on Tueſday evening laſt; but it, after two hours debate, proving too important to be managed by the preſent partie quarrée, a council was ſummoned early on Wedneſday morning, which did not break up till the meaſure under debate was determined on.

MARCH 13. The Ruſſians are advancing with ſuch large ſtrides in Walachia, that the Grand Vizir, with the troops under his command, has been obliged to retire from Siliſtria, to Pazargik, and from thence again to Babadagh; and by expreſs orders from the ſame miniſter, 800 maſons have been ſent off from Conſtantinople to repair the walls of Adrianople, and are to be followed by another body; this laſt mentioned town being the only fortreſs now remaining, except Bender, between the Muſcovites and the capital.

A letter from Berlin mentions, that the King of Pruſſia is printing ſome manifeſtos ſo privately, that different compoſitors were employed to ſet the preſs, ſo that none could tell what it meant, and the copies are all counted off and ſecured by the King himſelf.

In the year forty-five, when the Bank of England trembled, the ſcum of the earth and the dregs of the people went to St. James's in a proceſſion of near 1000 carriages, and promiſed to take bank bills in payment, which ſaved the kingdom. A pert groom of the chamber aſked, if any perſon there choſe the honour of Knighthood? when the preſent mayor anſwered, "We came here to do the King honour, not to receive any."

Notwithſtanding what is aſſerted in ſome of the News-Papers, that the Remonſtrance was this day to be delivered, we are informed that the opinions of L---d M------- and Sir F----N------ have been given in C----l, that the City Remonſtrance is illegal and inadmiſſible.

The opponents to the Remonſtrance ſay, "The conſtitution of the city of London is formed upon the model of that of the nation. Its Aldermen are its ſupreme deliberative Council, the Common-Council its Commons, the Freemen the body of the people. The latter delegate their whole power to the two former, whom they chuſe by election, and in that ſingle article conſiſts the whole power of the Freemen of London as a body. The Common-Council, as the Repreſentatives of the Freemen, had the care of the Police committed to their hands, and they had the ſole right of addreſſing the King, Lords and Commons, in the name of their Conſtituents, when they thought the intereſt of the kingdom, as well as that of the city concerned. This right they could not, in the nature of things, retranſfer to their Electors, nor call the latter to any ſhare of their Councils as a deliberate body. They cannot legally authorize the Mayor to call the Livery, who are no more than Freemen, to aſſiſt them, no more than the Houſe of Commons can Addreſs the King to aſſemble the body of the people. The only occaſion upon which the Mayor can legally convene the Livery, upon a day of election of City Officers, to which through cuſtom, and an Act of Parliament of the 11th of George I. they have a right; but it is only the right they poſſeſs as a body. They repreſent Nobody----they have no Conſtituents---and all their meetings in Guildhall, except in caſes of Elections, are ILLEGAL."

PETERSBURGH, February 6. Yeſterday a courier arrived here from General Romanzow with advice, that on the 15th of laſt month, a ſecond engagement happened between General Podgoritſchany, and another party of the enemy, different from the preceding day, conſiſting of 2000 infantry and 6000 cavalry, headed by three Pachas, and ſupported with nine pieces of cannon; they attacked our troops near Totſchany, but were happily routed after leaving about 1000 Turks on the field of battle. We have taken in this laſt affair ſeveral ſtandard, ſome cannon, and two waggons loaded with powder.

WARSAW, February 14. Col. Prince Gallitzin the 12th found the Confederates of Great Poland encamped between Blonie and Sochaczow, and attacked them, notwithſtanding their being ſuperior in number. The action was long and briſk, but at laſt they were obliged to retire with the loſs of 400 dead on the ſpot, and 150 priſoners, beſides ſeven pieces of cannon. As this affair happened but four leagues from hence, they took all the precautions they could to make the inhabitants eaſy who were very much alarmed.

ALGIERS, February 23. The dey underſtanding that two of his Chebecks, the one of 24 and the other of 30 guns, had been taken by the Spaniards, and that the Captain of one had been obliged to ſurrender in conſequence of his ſhip having been previouſly damaged by a French frigate, was ſo irritated, that he ordered an Embargo to be laid on all the French ſhips in this harbour; and after ſeverely reproaching the French conſul, diſpatched a veſſel to Marſeilles, in order to demand ſatisfaction for the inſult he had received.

WARSAW, February 17. On the 15th inſtant, the Sieur de Lutzen, Aid de Camp to Prince Repnin, arrived here expreſs, and brought advice to Prince Wolkonſki, that on the 29th of laſt month 6000 Ruſſians under the command of Lieutenant-General Stoffeln, entirely defeated, near the city of Brailow, a body of 20,000 Turks, 4000 of whom remained dead upon the field of battle; and that a commander's truncheon, ſix horſes tails, a large ſtandard, and 11 cannon, have fallen into the hands of the conquerors. M. de Lutzen adds, that after the action 12,000 Turks took poſſeſſion of the citadel of Brailow; but that the Ruſſians were preparing to attack them.

It is ſaid the Confederates have loſt in the different actions with the Ruſſians, in the courſe of laſt year, 6836 killed, and 1424 taken priſoners; great part of the latter have, however, obtained their liberty.

LEGHORN, February 14. The Ruſſian Admiral has detached two of his ſhips from Mahon to Malta, and is himſelf ſailed from thence with three others and two frigates: the reſt of the fleet is to wait there for Commodore Elphinſton. It is thought the whole fleet will rendezvous at the Iſles delle Sapienze, from whence they will proceed to the Archipelago. One of five ſhips that had been diſperſed in a ſtorm off Malta, had been refuſed admittance into the port of Corfou, for fear of giving umbrage to the Porte.

NAPLES, February 6. We hear that a Ruſſian frigate is arrived from Ottranto in the neighbourhood of Corfou, with 3000 barrels of gun-powder, as many of lead, and 16,000 muſquets on board, and there were ſeveral other veſſels to follow. Three Turkiſh veſſels having arrived at Micon, one of the Cyclades, in order to enliſt men by force, the people roſe up and killed the enlisters, and set even those at liberty that they had enlisted in the other islands of the Archipelago. The vessels with some difficulty put out to sea again. The Grand Signior has ordered all the inhabitants to be killed, and they say he has caused many Greeks at Constantinople to be put to death.

SMYRNA, December 30. This city, within this fortnight past, was very near being entirely ruined. Between forty and fifty Turks had formed the most desperate conspiracy, which was to have been put into execution on the 17th of this month, when the Greeks were at church. Their design was to pillage the houses, and afterwards set them on fire; to kill all the Franks they met with, and to carry off the most precious effects. Happily this shocking conspiracy was detected the day before its intended execution. The Muselim, or Grand Judge, caused the greatest part of the conspirators to be seized, some of whom were immediately put to death in private, others were banished, and several imprisoned in dungeons.

ADRIATIC, GULPH, February 14. The theatre of war is likely to furnish very extraordinary scenes on the side of Greece. It is said that the inhabitants of Salonica, the capital of Macedonia, have offered to assist Russia in the conquest of Rymelia; for which purpose they request a Russian commander, and a reinforcement of troops, which are actually on board the fleet of that nation, and likewise to be furnished with small vessels to cruize against the Turks.

WARSAW, February 17. The Russians have invested the citadel of Brailow, into which near 12,000 Turkish infantry retired, after the action of the 29th ult. and as the latter are quite destitute of provisions, it is expected they will soon be obliged to surrender at discretion: after which there is not any one place that can oppose the march of the Russians to Constantinople.

PARIS, February 19. The following remarkable event has lately happened here. The Count d'Estaing having been informed that there was a man in the city, by trade a sadler, who took upon him the name and arms of Estaing, the Count sent for him, and asked him how he dared to usurp his name and arms? The man answered, that he did not usurp them, but that he derived his right to them from his father. The Count then told him haughtily, that if he did not desist from using them, he would make him repent it. The sadler consulted a lawyer upon this affair who advised him not to use the name or arms, unless he could prove his right to them, to which the sadler answered, that he was brought up at the Foundling-hospital, and that the directors of that charity told him, when he was sent from thence, that the name and arms of Estaing belonged to him. Accordingly, the lawyer went with him to that hospital, and upon application to the principal director, he produced to them a letter in the hand-writing of the late Mr. d'Estaing, declaring that the person in question was his son, by a girl of mean birth, whom he had privately married, which occasioned his sending the child to the Foundling hospital. Some time afterwards he found means to satisfy this girl by giving her a sum of money, and married a lady of rank and fortune, by whom he had the present Count d'Estaing. The lawyer finding that the last-mentioned was an illegitimate child being the issue of a second marriage, when the first was not set aside, told the sadler to continue the name and arms of Estaing, as he had done before. The Count d'Estaing thereupon caused the man to be cited before the Chatelet; where both parties being heard, and an authentic copy of the above letter produced, that court decided in favour of the sadler. The Count has appealed from this sentence, and the public is very impatient to know what will be the issue of this affair.

SHE was possess'd of ev'ry Grace,
That can adorn the human Face;
A Form might rival in each Part,
A RUBENS or a RAPHAEL's Art!
The Boast----how short! For in that Hour,
Pale Vice had rifled, crop't the Flow'r:
Heav'n saw, with Pity, the Decay,
